

There is not an end only that of beginnings as we move into this new space this new depth of consciousness, you have been planted like seeds on the ground waiting to mature

We cannot intervene

But we can share through other methods

It is not us who have created the limitations

By far

It is us that would open to see all the connections and learn

Collectively together

When they implanted me years go with that block box, do you know actually what that was

Was it something to expand or decrease me energy

There is code on the box yes, almost like a tone on tone inscribed yes

The more clarity you have with the team the better you have to connect the energy signature of my life guide,

Clear all the programs, blocks and limits, metaphysical frequency shift through meditation

Calling in the gate keeper

742 frequency Pastried green stone celadon (bright) it's a healing stone, implanting in my head into my sixth chakra, creating a helmet in my head connecting into my temporal lobe, connecting into my pineal gland into the spine through the occipital bone.

Super emotional the first time it plugged in, metal being placed into my body, I will adjust to it, it is already activated, filling in and not hurting as much, integrated into my body.

He has a head band, he has the stone underneath the band, and it is connecting to whatever is inside my sixth chakra, there is a line and a connection, he will help with healing and the connection with the other beings, he says welcome, kreachea not his name it is a species, he found me I was his partner, showing me a young boy. Introducing the boy to me the boy is learning, instructing, it is not about me. He wants his son to grow to blossom, to experience.

364 guides supporting me

I definitely went out of body, rhythmic sonic circle, like a pulsation, really bright, circles facing me the last one is parallel to the horizon line, what is behind what is the intelligence behind this experience seeing a gaseous star, amoeba like , behind that is an almond shape

Why did it occur, to wake you up you were meant to do so much more than what you were doing seeing another woman like a being elongated Asian face light skin, more like slits like an Asian style, she is connected to the experience what was her role, she put an implant in my back illuminated opalescent egg like form, very long fingers and delicate, three digits on her hand.

Location was very bright nebula rs16 rs15 cross being encapsulated with a membrane around it, opal N45 seeing a bar a scanner, there is a being on the right-hand side tall gray for sure, doing something to my heart, cleaning my heart, scanning my heart,

Felt like they cut me through the center of my head to the skull where it meets my vertebrae, they pulled back my skin near the occipital bone, putting something in the back of my skull and exploring the back of my skull.

What's the purpose they put something down my throat through the back of my neck, asking if it is beneficial and getting a no, they are testing something they went down into the chest cavity, pressure out of my heart, feel a thing right on the top of my heart

They put an implant, what is the purpose of the implant they want to monitor, I did not consent on any level, I need to pull that out of my heart, what do I need to remove it, I tried to pull it out goes into my stomach. Pulling it out through the front body, it was like a block, needed clearing, healed my aura, stopping me from seeing.

Is this connected to the military these intelligences are connected to the military, showing me my old neighbor, he was watching me, he knew I didn't belong. Something under the earth for sure, in that area the energy is very heavy rectangular black box under the earth, the ceiling is so tall, all a blackened bronze powder coated over 60 feet tall, there is a ship in there a left side there is a ship and a mezzanine, they military is in army gear clothes and the disc, is kind of propped up the people are walking around like it is routine, the craft does not belong to the military, they found it, like a pewter small triangular area on the top thin line that delineates that there is stuff holding it in place a sort of scaffolding holding it in place a panel on the left hand side they opened up they took a piece off. In the field under the fields gentleman with glasses, about 52 he is kind of in charge, salt and pepper hair, there were beings. The beings are still alive and they are testing and the beings are not healthy

One is very tired; they are being held against their will right now. They are intuitive but not strong in their physical form, they are in a room and it is kind of like a gray but a different gray, 30 years he has been there. What is the purpose of showing me that, he wants help not everyone has survived, not everyone survived the flight two to three left out of the five to seven.

He is asking for help, he is showing me opening the sky, opening the ceiling

And I can not do it intuitively the ceiling needs to open,

There is something on the roof that they put that plate, plate needs to be removed, ship is no longer operable, something wrong with the ship for sure. He just made this shape in ceiling like a triangle making a node at each junction like mercury out into the sky out into the universe, it is like turning into a geometric grid, another being is on the other side of that hill, and I am seeing gray elongated head for sure, they are connecting through that triangular piece, I am involved with the location, so they are turning all these triangles and intersecting into the sky into the star system, so he is telling me his physical body is going to die here. And now there is another being standing right in front of me, about 12 feet tall, some kind of cloak, collar, grid is right behind him, like an invisible grid box cube, what is important about they are taking his essence out through the cube, a separation of two spaces right now, one is like earth the building the other side is the inky sky this being is there holding the space right now, it is about the location, that is what it was about.

It is beautiful. Helped with the location so they could collect the essence, my walls were bending they were no longer my walls they were bending, lots of shifts of frequency. It was beautiful

Spirit rescue, et rescue that pain is no longer in my heart anymore!

With the crystal in my body my body feels so different, no longer feeling the heavy bar. It is going to unfold, compound in the space, feel so many beings, felt like thousands of being behind my back. Now you understand who the voices are.

There is always a reason why it stayed with you, I would have never connected to the being. Felt like I will be stronger now, you can revisit this. And get more info. You can see it more objectively.

Pastried, what is Kreachea? What does that mean? It is a technology that I imbedded into your body, to serve you, you just have to turn it on, it is a knowledge. It is a fluid that can be plugged into welcome back and happy to connect to that information

So through the stone you can activate the metal membrane with in your energetic system, it is like a teleportation device, you can travel and access different location from here. Should I be doing this during astral projection, no you no longer need that just try now, you have activated the stone, yes and the metal is visible yes then take the three coordinates almost like the shoulder points and the third eye yes to create a point of contact, a trajectory yes go into the triangular form

Is this like a gate

yes

An interdimensional portal I can feel myself as if floating in the triangular membrane that supports me like a vessel

Yes

This is here to show you how to move throughout the universal energy system, yes of course you can go to different galaxies and portals learning, but together, I will always support you in this journeying of sorts,

Immediately I can draw back myself into the physical body, yes this is like a teleportation device, your connection. We can later, happy you came back to this space me too.
