

We come to you today, to assist you on your path in your assistance with others, it is quiet now, and you can use this time to learn and grow as your own multidimensional being.

Dear one you have so much to do in preparation, stay steady with your work as you have been provided this experience in the here and now. We see you busily working away,

Be patient with some, a Client is and will take the time. The Client is from a different aspect of frequency; you are learning to recognize that. Don't get bored, try to assist them in another way. They come to you because they are coming to a sense of home when they touch your energy. As you enter a room you bring light, this to is the same, they feel your light from thousands of miles away.

They feel safe with you in their growth.

Yes, but how to... Do you awaken them? Yes, you are doing that just that, it takes time, do you not remember your journey, you will at that moment listen to everything we said and ask of you to still do. We were cleansing you years before for this process this step in your planetary life to help others ascend. Be patient with them, raise your frequency again keep it high to connect to them from a different space this may feel like it is not working but do not a fall to their level.

Client he s chasing something, he does not see, he is still searching and is on this journey that is his path. I know

Then be you your multidimensional self-one hundred percent, unwavering. You know how to manifest and move through, now start working with that multidimensional self-right here where you stand. Stay connected dear one.

Stay connected dear one, the challenge you have is when others are around, this is your next step.

Will I be teaching

In the right moment, you are still learning, you have so much to learn still, you need to do this as if you are sleep walking. Being in your consciousness and completely aware. But am I doing it in a group setting, in the house? time will show you what to do, you will be guided have patience, it is still being manifested.

Should I work more with the aura than the chakras? My dear both systems need attention they are all interconnected you are doing perfect work; you just need to integrate us more into the work you perform. We are here to connect with whenever you need assistance call us in. We can assist you; we will work collectively together. You are never doing this alone, you know that you are awakened to the new channeling moments like now, embrace these moments

I do

I love this connection; I feel like I am home with you.

We are you, you are us, when we feel each other there is instant love, gratitude and blessings from each of us, we are building together so that we may support you, who has been chosen to support others, see the connections like the fiber optics we are all touching one another, you said it we are one, we are all interconnected. Feel that be that. We are here for you all ways.
